	Appendix – Customized Employee Eldercare Needs Analysis

A few words on your Customized Employee Eldercare Needs Analysis (CEENA)

The Corporate Eldercare Solutions Customized Employee Eldercare Needs Analysis is not just “a survey.” While we will be the first to agree it does not require the expertise of a rocket science to distribute the average employee survey, it does require a professional with experience in both the eldercare AND business arenas to provide return on investment and value-added information for the various company stockholders (ie: employee, corporate suite, owners).

Frankly, my dentist can distribute a survey, but he won’t necessarily know how to separate the variables, enter the data, effectively (and efficiently) read the data, measure and evaluate present company responses to eldercare challenges based on eldercare and business experience, or provide the company with effective and appropriate solutions to deliver a trifecta of stockholder wins (employee, corporate suite and ownership).

Expansive eldercare knowledge, a master degree in gerontology, and 20 years practical experience in corporate business development has groomed CES llc owner Veronica Woldt to deliver you with the statistically solid information you need to effectively and efficiently move forward to helping your company reduce eldercare related losses in productivity, increase the assistance received by employees with eldercare-related needs that are causing them absenteeism, stress, distraction and health issues, and help land your company an “an employer of choice” designation in your industry.
